PRICELESS

This area is known best throughout the world as the birthplace of champagne, due largely in part to a monk known as Dom Pérignon, who had much to do with the original harvesting and production of the grapes centuries ago. The growers and producers of this sparkling white wine are a proud group and have fought to keep the term “champagne” solely in this region of the world. The European Union agrees and has created laws to protect the designation of origin. This is literally the only place in the world you will be able to taste true champagne.
